CITIZEN FINISHED SAFE IS ROBBED

When Employees Are Away for Short Time the Safe is Left
Open

NO TRACE IS FOUND OF THE CULPRITS

Between Four and Five Hundred Dollars Are Reported
Missing

Harry H. Robertson, of the firm of Robertson, Dickson & Macdonald, the well known lawyer, who has defended scores of criminals at many a bar of justice, was yesterday the captive of one or more of that ilk, a daring safe robbery, involving the disappearance of a sum estimated at between four and five hundred dollars, from a place in his private office.

The robbery, which occurred between 8.10 and 7.15, presents many mysterious features, and it will be a difficult one for the detective to unravel. It took place after all the members and employees of the firm had left for the afternoon. Some of them intended to come back in the evening, however, and for that reason the two doors of the safe, it is said, were left open. The money was contained in a locked inner compartment, and the thief or thieves had no difficulty in forcing this open and abstracting the currency, afterwards decamping without leaving the slightest trace of their identity.

The office door was locked when the members of the staff left at the conclusion of the afternoon's work, and there are no signs that the door was forced. It was fitted with only an ordinary lock, however, which could be opened by means of a skeleton key, and it is thought that access to the office was obtained in this way.

The case has been placed in the hands of the detective department of the city police, who are making enquiries.

Pickpockets at Work.
Several sneak thieves and pickpockets were also at work in the city last night, according to reports received at police headquarters. Two cases of pocket-picking were reported at the corner of First and Jasper, where large crowds of people usually wait for the street cars. The amount lost in each case was not very large. It is a curious thing that all these cases are coincident with the arrival of the circus, and it may be that the danger of the show may have had something to do with them.

Trilled Women Now Wear Long Earrings

Earrings of late have been very scarce in London, particularly amongst smart women who boast the latest of the latest. They are worn in the street, in the house, and in the evening, and appear in the smart photographs. Long earrings are popular and are worn by Princess Alexandra of Teck, the Duchess of Cambridge, Lady Chesterfield, Lady Catherine, Lady Knicker, Lady Clarendon, Mrs. George Keppel, Mrs. Cecil Bingham, and Mrs. Winston Churchill.

Some of these earrings are an inch and a half in length. A big diamond forms the stud, and from this hangs a pear-shaped stone—a pearl, ruby, or emerald. But a few bold spirits mix studs with an effect that is bizarre. The other day at tea at a very smart hotel a smart actress appeared with a long pink pearl in one ear, and in the other a long black one.

Another design is to have a bar of diamonds fixed in the ear, from which fall three slender chains of diamonds, pearls, or rubies, or sapphires at the ends.

Cupid and Pride Look Horns

Soberly in Great Britain's metropolis was thrown into spasms of various degrees when it was announced that the Marquis of Northampton, better known as Earl Compton, was the subject of a breach of promise.

He having been seduced by Miss Violet Moss (whose name does not appear in the Marquis's list), the record has it that the Earl offered Miss Moss fifty thousand dollars to withdraw her name from the list.

"Fifty thousand dollars," reports Mrs. Markham, "but for £100,000; not for all the money in the world. I demand only that he keep his promise."

Raymond Anquith, the prime minister's son, will be one of her courtiers.

It is whispered that Miss Markham is really very much in love with the Marquis, who is actively courted, and as Earl Compton, before his father's death, courted her with a fervor that won her consent to marry him, to add herself to the galaxy of star ornaments that decorate the peerage.

From an earl's earl, she became a marquis, and from a marquis, she became a countess. The effort was vain. They met not long ago and with more or less of a flourish, whether she should bring the suit, the father died of a heart ailment of broken pride—when he learned of his son's attachment, she was told the melancholy circumstance had no weight with Miss Markham; she spurned the offer of money, which, perhaps, is many lies.

So the unhappy disagreement has resulted in the divorce court, that graveyard of so many fond hopes. For Mrs. Markham (E. E. Dike and F. E. Smith, two of the foremost divorce lawyers, argued for the plaintiff, Raymond Anquith, Sir Edward Carson, E. G. Hemmings and Mr. McCardie, all distinguished legal counsel, represented Mrs. Markham).

Miss Markham was born in India on July 29, 1885. She made her first appearance in Manchester in 1901 as "Celia" in "As You Like It." In December of the same year she appeared at the Lyceum theatre, New York, with Mr. Charles Wyndham, as Elaine Shrimpton in "The Case of Rebellious Women" and has since appeared in many other plays, including "Hedra," "Love's Labour's Lost," "The Merry Wives of Windsor," "The Merchant of Venice," and "The Taming of the Shrew."

WILL NOT MARRY UNLESS MOTHERS CLAIM IS JUST.

London, July 4.—The marriage, the husband of the Hon. Victoria Mary Sackville-West, a charming miss of 21, hangs on the decision of the now famous lawsuit to break Sir John Murray's will. He left $50,000 to Lady Sackville West, Victoria's mother, and his kin are contending it.

The young woman is engaged to marry Vincent Laurillard, heir to the Earl of Harwood, a young attaché of the British diplomatic service and lately a lieutenant in the crack Grenadier Guards. But she makes a common note—there must be no shadow of a doubt that her mother's claim to the great fortune is absolutely just, also she will not marry.

This is stated positively, although known up to the moment to some few of the young lady's intimates. The vicar, 21 years old, has accompanied his fiancée every day to the Probate Court where the suit, all important to them, is being tried. No suitor was ever more anxious, or perhaps more anxious.

HOT WATER HINTS IN BATHING SUITS

There is a certain dignity about the new beach suit with a high model collar of exquisite hand embroidery and lace and draped skirt that is made attractive against a background of a warm and sandy beach. This particular model is developed in striped suit in rich Roman colors.

White bathing suits are Dame Fashion's latest delicates. They are technically made of soft satinet and satin, with trimmings of fine, fresh colored buster and white sandals are considered extremely smart with the white suit.

Some of the latest bathing and beach costumes show novel touches of high colors, boldness and beauty, which add a distinctive note to costumes of dark colors. The bathing wear matching the suit material and color is a new idea in America, brought from the fashionable watering places in France.

MORE HUMBBUG TACTICS

A front dispatch says that a new Liberal paper will be started in the city, the Herald being, it is claimed, falling under Conservative control.

The dispatch is interesting in that it points out the country because the Herald's opinions on the naval question—being opposed to the course of the Opposition in Parliament—have been quoted freely by Government papers as those of a Liberal editor whose tremendous loyalty would not allow him to oppose the loan scheme.

If the dispatch cited above is correct, the views in question were only those of a few wealthy Conservative gentlemen who bought up a controlling interest in the Herald and ran it under false colors.

In that event it will be interesting to observe whether Mr. Burdon's newspaper friends attach the same importance to the opinions of the Herald when it runs openly as a Conservative paper that they did when it ran avowedly as a Liberal paper and secretly as a Conservative paper.

In this Province, of course, the Southern papers would doubtless continue to declare the Herald the foremost Liberal paper in Canada, even if Hon. Robert Rogers were elected and advertised as president and managing director of the reorganized company.

HIGH PRESSURE A NECESSITY

The engineer of the Underwriters' Association, in an interview with the mayor, commissioners and some of the aldermen, pointed out that a reservoir at Rabbit Hills would not give sufficient pressure through gravity alone for fire-fighting purposes. He added that a reservoir at Beaver Hills would not be any great advantage over the present arrangement so far as fire protection is concerned.

It has been known, of course, that the Rabbit Hills project of fire pressure sufficient for domestic purposes only. But it has been contended by some of the advocates of the Beaver Hills project that this would give pressure sufficient for fighting fires in buildings of ordinary height. Mr. Statton's observation seems to rather discredit the worth of this argument.

In any event, the question of fire protection is one which will have to be gone into thoroughly in connection with the investigation of the water supply problem. Meanwhile a few points may be profitably noted, as tending to an understanding of the situation.

Edmonton has reached the "sky-scraper" stage of development. One building is now going up way which is ten stories in height and another of eight stories. The probability is that still higher buildings will be put up in future.

The certainty is that more and more buildings as high as the present record-holders will go up.

The erection of these high buildings introduces a new element entirely into the situation. While buildings were not more than three stories, or at most four stories, in height, a pressure of comparatively moderate strength was sufficient, provided it was constant. But a pressure of ordinary strength will not drive water to the upper floors of some of the buildings now being built with force enough to be useful in fighting a fire. For that purpose a very much higher pressure than has been hitherto required or provided is needed.

It may be taken as certain that this high pressure will not be provided by pumps working on the present basis. Whenever the present moderately high pressure is turned on for any length of time there is more often than not a "blow up" in a main somewhere in the city. To subject the mains to a pressure of twice the present strength would in all likelihood four times to pieces and leave us with no protection at all. The additional pressure must be applied after the water leaves the mains, or it must be provided through separate mains specially made to withstand high pressure. In other words, we must use booster pumps; or install a separate high-pressure system in the districts where tall buildings are located.

Remark on the Side

Lovers of peace will perhaps find some consolation in the fact that, so far as can be ascertained at the moment, the people of the Balkan states are not really at war yet, but are only killing each other in a sort of non-lethal manner at the rate of two thousand a day.

Sentenced to three years penal servitude without the option, Kelly Marden declared she would refuse to leave the prison under the conditions imposed. It will be interesting to watch how she carries out her threat, which seems even more difficult of accomplishment than that of the prisoner who declared he would leave jail rather than clean out his cell.

Selling history and gloves in Vancouver enabled a merchant there to go back to the war country and pay the debts of his father who died in the war. The creditors are naturally full of admiration for this noble act, but surely some of the glory is due to the people of Vancouver who contributed the profits on the history.

It has been decided on appeal in the States that a spectator who is hit with a baseball is not entitled to compensation. That seems hardly fair, as he might at least be paid at the same rate as the other performers.

Joe plants in Cincinnati have been recommended by authority of the mayor, owing to the extreme heat from which the public are suffering. This seems to suggest that the mayor himself was pretty good.

"We aim to please," declares one photographer, and straightaway another text door takes the trick with the printed announcement, "We 100 please." Reminds one somewhat of the rival stonemason, one of whom had "More concrete work" as his window motto, whereas the opposition one advertised "More and More Concrete Work."

The man who takes home a bottle of whiskey to help him celebrate Dominion Day was not much wiser. He got a happy coincidence if his wife should happen to have a bottle of hot water standing on the bath, the utility of barley-water and aqua pura at a certain temperature being a chemical science much appreciated by many connoisseurs.

When the boiling water is poured over the man's head, as happened to an Edmontonian now in hospital, the man would be apt to exclaim very suddenly.

Current Comment

Not Badly Placed.

Detroit Free Press: During the nine months from August 1, 1912, to May 1, 1913, diamonds worth $1,000,000 and other precious stones were imported into the United States, a figure that has been exceeded only once. In the same period, $7,500,000 worth of foreign wine and $5,000,000 worth of ostrich feathers were brought into this country, both being considerably in excess of previous years' imports. Some of our citizens, it seems, are not feeling the high cost of living to any appreciable degree, for diamonds, ostrich plumes and high wines are included among the necessities of life. A nation that can spend nearly one hundred million dollars for among the imports of its period named was an item of $30,000,000 for "one of its most important necessities, in fact, is not particularly pocketed, even though the distribution of goods may be somewhat uneven."

A Slight Tip.

Cleveland Plain Dealer: Her habit of smoking cigarettes in bed caused the death of a New Jersey girl. Young ladies who must smoke after retiring should make use of the oriental habit of inhaling smoke in a puff and in a highly picturesque manner.

Shakespeare to the Rescue.

Vancouver Province: "Vancouver," says the New Zealand Herald, "is a city that has gone up on a bubble of speculation, and although the bubble has hardly been described as having burst, still it is punctured, and the gas is escaping fast." A Daniel in the judgment come. Oh, were we in New Zealand Herald, how we do not know.

Must Be Hard Up.

Montreal Gazette: The German steel syndicate has reduced the price of its members' products, it is announced, by the equivalent of 12 1/2 per cent. The need of money must be increasing outside of financial circles. The syndicate usually need it badly when they begin to cut prices.

EDMONTON BULLDOG IN CLASS BY HERSELF

Animal Owned by F. C. Mahan Esqy. Best in Calgary Show—Twenty Dogs. Owned in Edmonton. Exhibited in Southern City.

Calgary, July 4.—This year there were not so many outside dogs shown as at previous shows held by the Alberta Kennel Club, but the dogs were of a higher standard. The local dog fanciers captured the bulk of the honors, and it was conclusively shown that this city has unsurpassed dogs of almost every breed which can compare favorably with any in Western Canada or for that matter, in the whole of the Dominion. And the local fanciers had to compete against winners picked from the kennels of the best known owners in Toronto, Edmonton and other cities. Of the 20 dogs shown, no less than 23 were from the Queen City, while 22 of the canine hailed from Alberta's capital.

Mr. Hartmann, the well-known owner and exhibitor, was in charge of the Toronto dogs, while Messrs. Moore and Tandy looked after the Edmonton contingent. Both the Toronto and Edmonton men were, in their prizes of the local show. The largest and probably the best class on exhibition was the cocker spaniel entry. There were no less than 20 dogs entered. The Altrick class, too, was a large and exceptionally fine one.

In the English setter class, Winter Sport, belonging to Austin Winters, of Calgary, was easily the best dog, and he captured the premier honors almost every time he was brought before the judge.

A unique breed of dog on exhibition, which attracted the attention of the visitors probably more than any others, were the Schipperkes, shown by Mrs. J. C. Smith, of Calgary. This breed is very rare in America, although in Europe the dogs are a feature of every show. Mrs. Smith is the owner of probably the only four in Western Canada. The dogs are small, black and tailless. Of the four exhibited in this class, Calgary boy was the best, and Judge North, in awarding the premier prize to this canine, made the dog a champion. He would compare favorably with the best dogs of that breed in New York City.

Perhaps the most notable among the eastern dogs was the champion Boston terrier owned by Otto W. Knapp, Wacanda, Kennebec, Maine. This dog was a champion Wapman Prince and Bright Eye, have been shown at all the principal dog shows in the Eastern States and Canada and in every case they have captured ribbons.

Bright Eyes is valued at $2,500, and the owner would be loath to part with her at even this figure. Both canines carry insurance of $3,000 and are tended night and day by employees of the eastern dog fancier. At the Calgary show these two dogs naturally carried everything before them. In the bulldog class, Bradford Bulsey, the 1-year bitch, owned by F. C. Mahan, of Edmonton, was practically in a class by herself. The dog is a big, well-built animal of a brown color and finely marked. She was the most ferocious looking animal in the show, and for that reason had a group of dog lovers admiring her points almost every hour of the day. This dog has easily captured the first place in the open bitch class.

January 1911, a magnificent cocker or spaniel, shown by W. S. Saunders, of Calgary, was undoubtedly the best cocker spaniel exhibited.

Judging was completed in the special classes on Wednesday evening and there was jubilation among the local dog fanciers when it was announced that Calgary dogs had won three of the special challenge cups.

The treasury cup, valued at $150, given for the best dog or bitch in the show and owned in Alberta, was won by Brammer, a pointer, a masculine dog, owned by George Hall. The same dog also won the cup presented by Tom Storch for the best rough collie in Alberta. This is the third year in succession that Mr. Hall has won the trophy with his fine collie and as such the cup is now his permanent property.

A fair share of the prizes in the Boston terrier class went to the Wheeler, of Edmonton, who had a fine brace of dogs on exhibition.

Heavy Hains for Texas.

Fort Worth, Texas, July 4.—Greenview is partially submerged, Quinlan and Farmington are isolated, scores of railroad bridges having been washed away or seriously damaged and stretches of track at a dozen points have been destroyed by heavy rains in four North Texas counties. Crops over a wide area have also been ruined by the downpour, which has amounted to a deluge.

India in the missionary field" was vividly illustrated by the Rev. D. F. Smith, B.A., who has had considerable experience in that huge empire. The future of India, he said, rested on the shoulders of the Christian. The British government had enacted laws Christian religion. As an illustration which were in operation to suppress of the antiquated for carrying on many of the inhuman customs of the country work in India. Mr. Smith said Hindus, but the orthodox Hindus there were a good many villages in was in a state of unrest. "I Never See You Dusting" said Mrs. White

"WELL, Mrs. White, I'll confess that I don't have to do much dusting since we got our McClary's Sunshine Furnace."

"You don't say so, Mrs. Wright. What difference does that make? Isn't one furnace the same as another?"

"Well, I'll tell you, Mrs. White—McClary's Sunshine is certainly different from our last furnace. It's a clean furnace. It has what McClary's call a sure-acting dust flue."

"A dust flue, eh?"

"Yes, and when George, my husband, 'rocks' down the ashes—he doesn't have to break his back shaking the Sunshine, you know—the dust all goes up the sure-acting dust flue. It doesn't come up into the house."

"Wish our furnace was a Sunshine, Mrs. Wright. And you should just see Mr. White after shaking our furnace. Mad! Well, I should say so. And he sure looks his name. He is WHITE. His suits are ruined, his clothes are as soon as he gets them, and he swears that the thing is not a furnace at all, but a patent coal-consumer gotten out to benefit the coal man."

"But why not get your husband to put in a Sunshine furnace, Mrs. White? You can persuade him to do most anything for you. And it will cut down your coal bills. We burn a third less coal with the Sunshine."

THERE'S a McClary agent in your locality who will gladly tell you all about the coal-saving, labor-saving and health-producing features of McClary's Sunshine Furnace. It will pay you to read the latest Sunshine booklet. Write our nearest office for a copy.

The date for the recount was set shortly after the application for recount had been made before Judge Noel, who is now on his northern tour to Fort Vermilion on the Peace River. The Judge will be away for a couple of months, before going he arranged with Judge Crawford to hold the recount.

Action on behalf of H. W. Mackin, who was elected by one vote, Frank Ford, K. C., has objected to the recount being held before Judge Crawford, declaring that Judge Noel had no power to delegate his authority to another judge. H. A. Mackin, solicitor for A. Williamson Taylor, has agreed to the postponement of the recount until Judge Noel's return. Judge Crawford stating that if Mr. Ford maintains the position he has taken up, he will decide that he has no power to hold the recount.

Joseph A. Clarke, the independent candidate states that this arrangement has been made between the agents for the Liberal and Clearwater candidates, and he will appeal him in the matter and he will appeal the decision of Judge Crawford in the matter and will attend at Clyde on the day arranged.

LADY SACKVILLE ON VERGE OF BREAKDOWN

She Undergoes Further Cross Examination in Connection With Suit to Break Will of Late Sir John Murray Scott.

London, July 4.—The re-appearance on the witness stand today of Lady Sackville, daughter of the former British minister at Washington, to undergo further cross-examination in the suit known as "The Fight for the Millions" again attracted a fashionable audience to the probate court, where Sir Samuel Thomas Evans is the presiding judge. Among the crowd was Mrs. Ansell, wife of the premier, and other cabinet ministers' wives.

The suit was instituted by the relatives of the late Sir John Murray Scott to have pronounced invalid, on account of alleged undue influence, the testament by which he left the bulk of his fortune of $5,000,000 to Lady Sackville.

Frederick K. Smith, one of the barristers, who is a cousin for the Scott family, questioned Lady Sackville. At the outset of her testimony today she told the court she had been ill all night and her doctor did not think she would be able to attend because she was on the verge of a nervous breakdown. She requested permission to make a statement of all the payments made to her by the late Sir John.

The court was unable to grant her request, and she was obliged to answer the questions.

This is the seventh day of the trial and the judge announced that Lady Sackville would not be required much longer, an indication that her examination would be brief.

Price of Beef Is Soaring Higher

Note of Alarm is Sounded in the World's Greatest Beef Market at Present Scarcity

From Chicago, the greatest beef market in America, comes the information that beef is becoming increasingly scarce, and is likely to be much more so in the future. The price of beef is now at a record high, and is expected to continue to rise. The cause of this is the scarcity of beef, which is due to a number of factors, including a shortage of cattle and a high cost of feed.
